NRS 200.359 provides that every 24 person having a limited right of custody to a child or any parent having no right of custody to the child who willfully detains, conceals or removes the child from a 2.5 parent, guardian or other person having lawful custody or a right of visitation of the child in violation of an order of this court, or removes the child from the 26 jurisdiction of the court without the consent of either the court or all persons who 27 have the right to custody or visitation is subject to being punished for a category

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the terms of the Hague Convention of October 25, 1980, adopted by the 14th Session of the Hague Conference on Private International Law, apply if a parent abducts or wrongfully retains a child in a foreign country. The parties are also put on notice of the following provisions in NRS 125.510(8):

If a parent of the child lives in a foreign country or has significant commitments in a foreign country:

- (a) The parties may agree, and the court shall include in the order for custody of the child, that the United States is the country of habitual residence of the child for the purposes of applying the terms of the Hague Convention as set forth in subsection 7.
- (b) Upon motion of one of the parties, the court may order the parent to post a bond if the court determines that the parent poses an imminent risk of wrongfully removing or concealing the child outside the country of habitual residence. The bond must be in an amount determined by the court and may be used only to pay for the cost of locating the child and returning him to his habitual residence if the child is wrongfully removed from or concealed outside the country of habitual residence. The fact that a parent has significant commitments in a foreign country does not create a presumption that the parent poses an imminent risk of wrongfully removing or concealing the child.

NRS 125C.200 regarding relocation with minor children:

If custody has been established and the custodial parent intends to move his residence to a place outside of this State and to take the child with him, he must, as soon as possible and before the planned move, attempt to obtain the written consent of the non-custodial parent to move the child from this State. If the non-custodial parent refuses to give that consent, the custodial parent shall, before he leaves the State with the child, petition the court for permission to move the child. The failure of a parent to comply with the provisions of this section may be considered a factor if a change of custody is requested by the non-custodial parent.
